Community School Literacy

Principal Kelly Jones, Queen's Park Elementary, highlighted the school's approach to Community School Literacy from preschooler to adult. It included four programs as part of a plan to increase school readiness and literacy for students and their parents. Ongoing programs included Books for Breakfast and Ready Set Learn; new programs included Parenting Wisely, One-to-One Literacy, and Writing Out Loud. All programs are designed to bring families to the school with a focus on literacy and school readiness using school personnel as well as Okanagan College personnel. Additionally, before and after daycare and Kindercare will be offered at the school.

Chairman Little extended congratulations to Mr. Jones and school staff for their efforts in building relationships with families.
